Subject: Common Purpose Media Stories

Dear Advisory Group Members

You may be aware that BBC Radio 5 Live ran a feature on Common Purpose on the Donal MacIntyre show on Sunday 8 March. The feature was mainly concerned with the conspiracy theories that have suggested that Common Purpose has a more sinister purpose.

These untrue claims were very effectively quashed during the programme and we were generally pleased with the outcome and we have received much positive feedback. These allegations have had a very serious impact on our staff and we hope that they will now be laid to rest.

There were questions raised during the broadcast that we are a secret organisation, which are completely without foundation. However, we are always happy to find ways to do things better and if the broadcast raises anything that we feel we can improve upon, we will address those things.

If you have any queries regarding the programme or any other issues you feel would be pertinent please contact our Managing Director, Caroline Duckworth at Caroline.Duckworth@commonpurpose.org.uk. Anyone who did not hear the programme who wishes to do so access it from through our website.

Very best wishes
Caroline
